The Pork-Packing Situation.

PORK-PACKING OR NO PORK-PACKING is the question now before the farmers of the Red Deer district.

When the Creamery Association was forming, Mr. Flaak and a few others worked, talked, ran after men on the street, and almost drew indifferent farmers into it with a rope; the result has amply justified their enthusiasm, and, no doubt, some who are now outside the Government Creamery will think they might just as well have joined while shares were being allotted; when, in the near future, they see the property of the Association free of debt and the shareholders receiving a 10 per cent dividend on their stock. Even after all this work, several of the Creamery promoters had to increase their applications for stock 50 per cent in order to have sufficient subscribed stock to apply for the charter.

Now, it is not likely any such persuasive efforts will be made in this case; where it required one farmer to start the Creamery, it will need ten farmers to start a Pork-packing factory. Without doubt, the Pork-packing, if successful, would put more money in the farmers' pockets than even the Creamery has.

Circulars are being distributed, and it is by signing their names as subscribers for stock and for supplying hogs that the farmers will say if they mean to have a Pork-packing factory or not. It is no use for one man to promise 500 hogs, he might fail to do so, but it is an assurance for 500 or more farmers each to promise 10 or 20 or 100 hogs per year; it is the number of farmers who will pledge themselves to subscribe for some stock, and supply some hogs (without waiting to see whether the thing is going, or what their neighbors are going to do) that will say if Red Deer is to have a packing-house, or if we shall go on putting money into the pockets of Winnipeg firms.

There are about 100 circulars out, and room enough on each for some 12 or 15 names. If any farmers are not reached by the circulars, they can sign at either the "News" or "Advocate" offices, or at the Creamery. All names should be in by first week in April in good time for the meeting on the 10th.

THE COMMITTEE.

Reception.

Last Friday afternoon and evening the beautiful new home of Mr. W. A. Moore in Waskasoo Park was the scene of one of the prettiest society events of the season, when Mrs. Moore proved herself a most charming hostess at her first formal reception in her new home.

The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers.

The dining-room was gorgeously ornamented with fluffy satin ribbon and flowers.

The hostess wore an elegant white silk crepe de chene. The bodice was trimmed with silk lace and a wreath of pink roses.

She was assisted in receiving by Mesdames Root and G. W. Smith. Mrs. Root was charmingly attired in a white crepe de chene gown trimmed with applique medallions relieved with touches of black. Mrs. Smith's beautiful navy blue taffeta robe was adorned with cream satin.

The guests were escorted to the dining-room by Mrs. J. Gaetz, who was attired in brick colored satin with a yoke of point lace, and touches of black velvet and chiffon. Those who officiated in the tea-room were four of the most recent brides of Red Deer: Mesdames Simpson, Strong, Parsons, and Crawford. Mrs. Simpson was becomingly attired in a pale green and pink brocaded silk with an overdress of white laced chiffon and lace. Mrs. R. Parsons looked charming in a champagne colored silk, with point despit relieved with touches of green and brown satin. Mrs. G. D. Strong wore a gown of pale blue silk elaborately trimmed with tinted pascamentry. Mrs. J. L. Crawford was prettily attired in white net over taffeta.

The bodice being ornamented with chiffon and hand made lace. During the afternoon, and evening over one hundred guests attended this brilliant social function.

Liberal Meeting.

The Liberal meeting on Thursday evening last in the Alexandria Hall was only fairly well attended and was not very enthusiastic. Dr. McIntyre the Liberal candidate who was the leading speaker discussed the various issues before the people in a quiet intelligent manner professing his loyalty to his party and his purpose to give Red Deer a square deal if elected.

On behalf of Dr. Crang, Mr. G.

Before noon numerous appointments at the Royal palace have been kept and the day has been a success. The appointments are of every conceivable kind and degree. One day recently, for example, the Duke of Devonshire, Director of the art museum in South Kensington, who relinquished his important duties in order to be present, attempted to accept a similar one in New York at the Metropolitan Museum. He was, however, unable to do so, his earliest trains created by his present majesty, upon affairs came to the fore.

Sir Furdon Clarke was not only the first to keep his appointments at South Kensington, but he was one of the distinguished directors as well, and he was the first to be present at any importance in every art centre in London. Although yet in the fifties, Sir Furdon Clarke has been the witness of his life to his work in London; but he has decided to leave it all for his new work in New York. He has attempted, no doubt, by the brilliant prospects in a new field and the general interest in the art world, to be met there. In other words, he

Dog's Long Journey Home.

An instance of the homing instincts in dogs is reported from Buckinghamshire, Constable Atkinson, having been called to attend a dog belonging to Long Crendon, took his retriever dog with him, while on night duty, and in the morning the following morning it was found in its old home. The dog had covered the route the journey is over fifty miles.

Nerve of a Stowaway.

The captain of a Mediterranean liner was asked about stowaways.

"I have lost count of them," he said, "have had excessive quantity of cheese or brass. Once we discovered a stowaway a few days out from New York I had him taken to the police miller. A lady on the tower of inspection passed by the stowaway as he sat peeling potatoes."

"And soon do you think we'll reach Naples?" she said to him.

"Well, madam," he replied, "I'm doing all I can to get her by. Tussling."

size and the quantity of milk she produces, says Kinball's Dairy Farm. Four pounds of grain daily will do much as some cows can profitably even, while others will make more returns from ten or twelve pounds. Other things being equal, a cow that will eat more feed than one and a cow giving a large quantity of milk more than one giving a smaller quantity.

The Traitors' Gate.

One of the most famous entrances in the world is doubtless the ancient gateway to the Tower of London, known as Traitors' gate. For centuries that traitors were conducted to the shores of the river Thames to the tower. To Americans probably more familiar of these unfortunate victims was the case of the traitor, John Watney Raleigh. That patriot passed directly in front of the gateway completely cutting it off, and from the pathway the famous wicket gate was opened up by many thousands of Peppermint.

The preparation of peppermint is peculiarly an American industry. The peppermint is cut when in bloom, i.e. hay, dried, placed in close wooden vats and steamed. The oil cells burst as the oil passes upward with the steam, and the steam is caught in a receiver, where the oil rises and is piped off. It takes about 350 pounds of dry peppermint to produce a pound of oil. An acre of land yields from six to ten tons of oil, often more, even as high as fifty pounds.

Wonderful Mechanical Flies.

It is not necessary to remark, especially after one reads the following, that it takes credulity to the utmost to believe some of the old time stories.

John de Montorral presented Emperor Charles VI. an automatic iron fly which escaped, crawled around his majesty's head a few times and then alighted upon his sleeve.

Virgilius, Bishop of Naples, made a tripod of Charles VI. only fly, but kept all other flies out of the city.

FACTS REGARDING THE JOHN T. MOORE HOLDUP.

The circumstances leading up to the taking up of a subscription of $2000 for the Great West Lumber Co., were as follows: In Feb. Mr. McKenzie, one of the Coy., asked Mr. W. A. Moore for a price on a certain piece of land on the north side of the river. Mr. Moore wired his father a description of the property, and asked that a price of same be wired back. Mr. John T. Moore replied, that he would sell the land in question for $4000, which information was given to Mr. McKenzie, who declared that in his estimation, this was nothing but a "hold up"; that his company would not pay it, and that they would immediately cease work at this point and go to Saskatoon, where inducements had already been offered them to locate.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade was held at that evening, and the possibility of the town losing this valuable industry came up for consideration. It was felt that something must be done immediately to prevent it. After a great deal of discussion it was thought, best that the matter should be let stand until Mr. Moore's return, it being thought that perhaps he did not understand from the telegram exactly what land was required. But this suggestion did not cover the contingency altogether, as Mr. McKenzie did not care to proceed any further with his operations until he was thoroughly satisfied that he could procure the land wanted, at a price he was willing to pay.

To meet this the Board guaranteed him, that they would undertake to see, that in some way satisfactory arrangements would be made, and with this assurance Mr. McKenzie agreed to continue his operations.

On Mr. Moore's return, it developed that he had accurately comprehended what was required, and declined to modify his price. Mr. Robinson, the President of the company, then laid the matter before one of the members of the Board's Executive, who assured him that the Board would make good its promises to his company; suggested that he make the best bargain he could with Mr. Moore and then they (The Board) would undertake to raise from the citizens the difference between what they were willing to pay.

On Saturday the 24th inst., Mr. Robertson reported, that he had closed the deal with Mr. Moore at $100 per acre for 40 acres; but that all he thought his company should pay for the land was $50 per acre; which left a difference of $2000. This amount was all subscribed by the citizens on Monday the 26th inst. and the company, which is by all means the most important industrial concern which has ever come into our midst, is thus definitely and permanently located here.

The above is intended to be an accurate and unbiased statement of the facts of the case and to this we shall add very little for the present in the way of comment. One reason is that some have thought we were unduly severe with Mr. Moore on account of his withdrawing in the dark a while ago and without an explanation leaving his constituency to shift for itself. As our former remarks therefore left the gentleman so utterly unable to find apology or reply, perhaps it would be as well to keep this quiet for the present out of respect for his feelings. This story of the "hold up" on the part of "the people's friend" the advocate of "quick progress" will prove interesting reading some day.

THE BYE-ELECTION.

With bravehearted determination it has been decided by the Conservatives to place a man in the field on Thursday, April 5th. Dr. Crang of Stratheona is the standard bearer and as there is no time for the candidate to meet the electors personally we may say that the Dr. is a man of good character and ability who stands for a straightforward course in politics and for the best interests of the western provinces in all that pertains to their true development. He is a man of strength and promise who can be depended upon to give a good account of himself if elected as a representative of the people. His candidature is a protest against the continued manipulations of a corrupt government machine and this is your opportunity to join in rebuking those politicians who are making the word Liberalism a hissing and a byword throughout Canada. There is a time when we must hand to hand work in this brief conflict but if the friends of cause will with quiet persistent confidence so that every possible vote is polled in favor of the candidate which stands to-day for purity in our public life, the effort will not be in vain. Vote for Dr. Crang on April 5th.

THE RED DEER MILL AND ELEVATOR COMPANY LTD.

On account of the circulation of certain false reports regarding the organization and standing of the Red Deer Mill & Elevator Co. it might be well to explain that while certain mistakes were made in organization which left affairs in a state of uncertainty for a time these matters have now been practically all settled in a satisfactory manner and under Mr. G. H. Bawtinheimer, the present Managing Director it is expected that the business will be entirely successful. All that is needed now is a little more capital for this is said to be the finest flour mill west of Winnipeg today and the opening for business here also one of the very best.

It is remarkable the quality of flour now being turned, indeed the color and quality is said by some to be superior to the flour of the big mills and there is no reason now why the Red Deer merchants should any longer pay out freight on flour. The wheat is being imported from points where it is of the highest grade and there is no better machinery to grind it into flour than they have in this plant so why not patronize our home industry and insist on using the flour produced at home. There is a bright future before the Red Deer Mill and let us help it along in every way in our power.

Anyone desirous of purchasing stock should see Mr. L. C. Fulmer who is the Sec. Treas. or Mr. Bawtinheimer the Manager.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Our local member seems to be degenerating in his use of English for which he was formerly noted. The following were a few of the pieces of slang used in his speech on Thursday evening last. "Do the stunt." "Deliver the goods." "Produce the dough." "Slick stuff." "Get out and dust." "Take a pill."

Had Never Advertized.

A young lady working in a stocking factory, fearing that her chances for matrimony were small wrote the following and slipped it into the toe of a gentleman's sock: "A young lady good looking and of some means, would like to correspond with the wearer of this sock, if he is single, with a view to matrimony." A young man bought the sock and said: "There's my chance." He wrote to the young lady offering himself as a suitable party, and to his surprise got this reply, "I have been married eight years and have a family of five children. The man from whom he had bought the socks had never advertised, and consequently they had lain on the shelves for eight years.—Raymond Chronicle

Advice to Poultry Raisers.

A. W. Foley, the poultry expert, who was judge at the poultry show and spoke at the Farmers' Institute meeting a few days ago, offers some advice to people starting in the poultry business. He says:

The first thing I would warn people who are inexperienced, against going into the business on a large scale all at once. The first year a man should not keep more than fifty or one hundred birds. Then, as he gets to understand the work, let him increase his stock until he gets perhaps a thousand, which is enough for anyone to handle, and will require two or three acres of ground. Type, strain and selection are the passwords to success in poultry raising. You cannot get good results with a poor strain of mongrel birds. Either of our utility breeds, Plymouth Rocks, Orpingtons, or Wyandottes, can be handled successfully, all of them being hardy, good layers and good meat producers. Mixed grain, oats, wheat, and barley should be fed in the ordinary way, and three weeks before the birds are to be killed they should be placed in the fattening crates and fed skim milk and finely ground oats.

Under this treatment a bird of four pounds should gain a pound in three weeks. Before killing birds should be starved and kept without water for 36 hours, or they may be given a light feed 24 hours before killing, and water 12 hours later. The water then cleans the bowels, but on the whole it is safer to completely starve the birds for 36 hours.

Killing may be done either by dislocating the neck at the joint connection with the head, or by cutting the jugular vein inside the mouth with a knife or shears. In the east we find it better to use the latter method, as the blood is taken from the bird without removing the head, and thus leaves it air-tight.

Fire.

A prairie fire was started by an engine on Thursday last north of town near the residence of Mr. K. McKay, as the result of which his stables were consumed. The house was saved with great difficulty. The stock was rescued from the stables but harnesses and some utensils were burned. Mr. McKay desires us to express his hearty thanks to the Fire Brigade and other citizens who so promptly and willingly assisted upon this occasion.

On Monday morning shortly after eight o'clock, fire broke out in the residence of H. Reinhold, Douglas St. Mr. Reinhold immediately attempted to telephone an alarm, but says there was at least fifteen minutes delay before he could get an answer to his repeated calls. Had it not been for the well-timed and effective efforts of himself and family, in fighting the fire, it might have been so far under way before the arrival of the brigade as to render any futile any efforts to check it. As it was the fire was, the fire was extinguished before the arrival of the fire brigade. The fire started in a closet under the stairs, but the cause is unknown.

Million Dollar Investment.

"St. Louis men of my acquaintance are investing a round million dollars in Alberta property this spring."

This was the remark today of R. Francis, of St. Louis, brother of ex-Governor David Francis, who visited Calgary last summer with a party of capitalists. R. Francis arrived in the city yesterday, and observed that the party of capitalists who were in the west with his brother last year formed the company which would invest this large amount this spring in Western Canadian real estate.

"We will buy largely of wild lands, of course, but some improved property will also be purchased. Calgary, Edmonton, High River and the Medicine Hat district will interest us most. Some investments are being made along the C. N. R. line in Saskatchewan, however, but most of the money we will spend in Alberta."

A great many Missourians are sending large sums into Calgary and Western Canada for investment. Judge William Biggs of Red Deer, and Captain Harry Knight, who bought largely in Calgary during the winter, have interested St. Louis men in this part of the world.

Judge Biggs liked it so well that he came here with his family to reside, and to him, of course, comes every Missourian who visits the Northwest, as Biggs was on our Supreme bench there twelve years, and we remember him very kindly.

Our feeling is that the railroads will advance their lands very soon and that the rush of new settlers will put the price of Alberta land about where the Dakota and Montana lands now are—say $36 per acre. If this soil will produce from 30 to 40 bu. of hard wheat of course it is worth $40 per acre of any man's money. We can't credit the story of 100 bushels of oats and 60 bu. of wheat, weighing 68 pounds to the bushel. I want to see the land that will do that sort of thing.

Missourians do not fear drouth in Alberta, for we have studied the irrigation problem very closely and are satisfied that in a country with the numerous mountain streams with a heavy fall like you have here there should be no trouble about getting all the water needed. Utah, with ten times less available water supply, is producing all kinds of fruit and grain. I will be in Alberta for the next month, and then I will meet a party of Missourians coming here."—Calgary Herald.
